President Sends New Farm Plan to Solons

Jobless in Dip Below 6 Per Cent

First Time in Sixteen Months

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Joblessness dipped below 6 per cent of the nation's labor force in January for the first time in 16 months, Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg announced today.

Goldberg said the encouraging economic factor came about even though unemployment increased by 572,000 for the month to 4,663,000. This is less of a climb than usual for January.

Because of the less-than-usual increase, the seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment fell from 6.1 to 5.8 per cent.

Labor Department experts said joblessness normally climbs by about 750,000 at this time of year when cold weather halts most outdoor work and retail stores have post-Christmas layoffs.

Goldberg announced in testimony prepared for delivery before the Senate-House Economic Committee that employment fell by 1,409,000 this month but still was at a record high in January of 65,058,000. He said this was less than the seasonal decline anticipated.

Vigorous Signs of Recovery
"These data confirm what the President has said in his economic report," Goldberg said. "We are in the midst of a vigorous economic recovery with production and employment reaching new highs."

The cabinet officer said unemployment this month was 700,000 below the figure for January, 1961, when the Kennedy administration took office.

But he said long-term unemployment still poses a "very serious problem." The number of jobless workers idled for four months or longer stands at 1.25 million, Goldberg said. This has remained almost unchanged over the year.

The department said that most of the improvement in the unemployment situation occurred among adult men. Total employment in January was 60,000 higher than a year ago, it said.

The secretary said at current unemployment levels, however, at least 5.5 million jobs would have to be created during 1962 to reduce the unemployment rate to 4 per cent of the labor force.

Fast Start Over Classic 1st Nine

Gene Littler and Don Fairfield this morning, to lead the field with scores of 32 for the first annual Palm Springs Golf Classic.

Littler, U. S. Open champ, played the Tamarisk front nine, and Fairfield, who teed off at 9 a.m., turned in his front nine at the Eldorado course.

Lionel Hebert, playing at Indian Wells, and his brother, Jay Hebert, stroking the ball at Eldorado, carded 33s during the first nine holes of play.

Jerry Barber found the Tamarisk course to his liking as he posted a 34 for the nine holes. Fred Wampler, playing in the foursome behind Fairfield, carded the front nine in 35 blows. Marty Furgol at Indian Wells was next in line with an even par 36.

Most of the nation's top golf stars were out in force here yesterday tuning up and ironing out the wrinkles in their golf games to prepare for the first round.

Chunky Billy Maxwell, defending champion of the Classic, toured the Eldorado championship hip course with Mike Souchak. Maxwell carded an even par and Souchak fired a two under par 69 for one of the low scores of the day.

Play Tamarisk
The two pros then hurried over to the Tamarisk course to play as many holes as possible before darkness closed in on them.

Jack Nicklaus, former U. S. amateur champ, played the Tamarisk layout and then continued his practicing on the driving range.

Ken Venturi, the San Francisco pro, played the Eldorado course in preparing for his first 18 holes he played today.

Arnold Palmer, winner of the 1960 Classic, limbered up on the Indian Wells course and breezed home with a very satisfying 68—three strokes under the regulation figure.

TV Schedule
Joe Campbell, the former Purdue University basketball star, who nailed down the first $50,000 check for his hole-in-one in 1960 played the Bermuda Dunes course and found it to his liking.

Saturday, KHJ-TV (9) will televise from Indian Wells CC commencing at 2 p.m. Sunday, NBC-TV (4) will telecast from Bermuda Dunes CC for one hour starting at 1:30 p.m.

President Puts No Price Tag On Proposals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy asked Congress today for a "common sense" A-B-C-D farm program built around "abundance, balance, conservation and development."

The President put no price tag on his proposals, but administration officials claimed they would cut government costs, improve farm income and keep consumer prices fair and stable.

In a 4,000-word message to Congress, Kennedy asked for the strictest production controls in history for feed grains, wheat and dairy products in order to reduce surpluses. He also asked for new acreage controls on cotton.

His program, he said, is "as common sense as A-B-C-D."

In a statement accompanying the message, Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman said the program would reduce the cost of price supports to about $1.5 billion by 1967; a cut of about $1 billion from the present level.

Other proposals Kennedy made in his message:

—A massive program to convert excess farmland to such uses as recreation areas.

—A program of "rural renewal" and education to help rural citizens prepare for non-farm jobs, aid small farmers in consolidation and enlargement and attract industry to ailing farm areas.

—Expanded use of agricultural abundance, particularly through the Food for Peace program and enlargement of the pilot food stamp plan to help needy persons here and abroad.

It was expected that the food stamp program, now in operation in eight economically distressed communities, would be expanded to include 20 to 40 new areas.

New Polar Cold Moves Into Nation

By United Press International
A new polar cold wave dropped temperatures below zero in the winter-weary Northeast today and scattered light snow from North Dakota to North Carolina.

Freezing temperatures were reported as far south as Virginia, Tennessee and Arkansas.

Thick fog engulfed southern California for the second straight day. New England was digging out from under as much as eight inches of new snow.

The fast-moving cold air mass dropped the temperature 33 degrees in eight hours at Madison, Wis., and 29 degrees at Milwaukee, Wis., Tuesday. The mercury dipped 25 degrees in six hours across Ohio. When the cold front reached Chicago autos parked in pools of water left from the previous day's thaw had their tires locked in ice.

By midnight the temperature had fallen to 16 below zero at International Falls, Minn., which recorded a high of 8 below yesterday. Duluth, Minn., had a high of 4 below and the mercury barely climbed above zero at Minneapolis, Minn. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., had a high of 3 below.

West and south of the cold front temperatures were balmy. The mercury climbed into the 60s Tuesday in western Nebraska while the east part of the state had high readings in the 30s.

The cold was welcomed in flooded areas of Kansas and Indiana, where authorities hoped the end of thawing would cause rivers to fall.

NEWS in BRIEF

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A spacecraft, the weather and the internal ills of a rocket have cropped up in that order to keep John Glenn out of orbit until Feb. 13 at the earliest.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department refused today to give senators investigating alleged military muzzling the names of individuals who censored specific speeches.

The formal refusal was expected to provoke a new test of the right of executive departments to withhold certain information from Congress.

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle summoned his cabinet today to deal with a crisis on two continents caused by reports of an impending Algerian peace settlement.

No one knew whether the settlement would in fact end the guerrilla war, but De Gaulle was trying to make sure.

NAM THA, Laos (UPI) — A Royal Army supply plane piloted by American civilians, was hit by rebel gunfire today while taking off from this besieged provincial capital, but none of the Americans aboard was injured.

The aircraft suffered only minor damage. It was the first time pro-Communist rebels have hit planes carrying reinforcements into Nam Tha since the Red offensive against the town began Dec. 22.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Ninety-two antitrust suits seeking triple damages against electrical manufacturing and supply firms were filed Tuesday by six electrical utilities.

The suits, charging conspiracy to overcharge on purchases, were filed in U.S. District Court.

Ruling on G. Cameron Case Today

Temporary settlement of the hassle over conservatorship for the person and estate of George E. Cameron Jr. of Palm Springs today awaited a ruling by Superior Court Judge Merrill Brown in Indio.

A ruling was expected this afternoon on a new proposal under which the City National Bank of Palm Springs would become conservator of the millionaire's assets.

At the same time, it was expected, Cameron's brother Arthur, also a millionaire, would be named temporary conservator of his person. However, attorneys indicated it had been agreed Arthur would take no action until Feb. 16 when reports on medical and psychiatric examinations are due.

However, at noon today court attaches indicated Arthur may have changed his mind on this agreement and ensuing arguments were delaying Judge Brown's ruling.

The battle over the estate of George E. Cameron Jr., who owns radio station KDES, Palm Springs, is president and principal stockholder of The Desert Sun, numerous real estate holdings in Palm Springs and Oklahoma oil interests, was believed settled 10 days ago.

But it bounced back into court yesterday after industrialist Robert McCulloch, a friend of both Cameron brothers, declined to become conservator of George's estate in lieu of Arthur.

Batteries of attorneys representing the two brothers have been in court repeatedly for weeks.

Spa Scouts Winners of Top Award

RIVERSIDE — The active Palm Springs Boy Scout District won the top Paul Briskin Award for Scouting achievement during 1961, it was announced during the annual Riverside County Scout Council meeting here last night.

The award was given for top achievement during the year, when a 24 per cent increase in Palm Springs District units was achieved, with a 14 per cent increase in boys served. The district, headed by Chairman Bradley Davis, Commissioner Barton L. Schuman, and Scout Executive Vardie Lawrence, now has 21 units with 475 boys.

The Palm Springs District has won the Briskin award three years out of the past five. The district won the award for 1960.

Duty Shortened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army today shortened extended overseas duty tours, effective July 1, and nullified extensions scheduled after Jan. 1, 1963.

The three to six-month extensions were ordered last Oct. 1 at the height of the Berlin crisis.

The Army gave no precise figures on the number of men affected by today's order.

exclude the "Marxist-Leninist government" of Fidel Castro's Cuba from participation in inter-American affairs.

Cuba alone voted "no." Six nations abstained, limiting the "yes" vote to the bare majority needed to insure expulsion of the Castro regime from the Organization of American States.

The vote on half a dozen measures dealing with the Cuban case effectively wound up the nine-day conference here. The foreign ministers were to meet at 6 p.m. EST, to sign the papers formalizing their decision.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk hoped up to the last minute to muster the support of at least 17 or 18 nations for the crucial anti-Castro vote, but the "soft six," Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Ecuador and Mexico — refrained from voting for various technical reasons.

Question Authority
The foreign ministers of the six nations argued in substance that the conference did not have the authority to exclude or suspend any American state from inter-American activities without amending the OAS Charter.

Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos also challenged the authority of the conference and denounced the OAS as a "political and military bloc."

"You may succeed in establishing this bloc, but you will not succeed in erasing us from the Americas' geography," Dorticos said. "We may not be in the OAS, but socialist Cuba will be in the Americas."

"The imperialistic government of the United States will continue to look at revolutionary, Socialist Cuba, 90 miles from her coast."

Knuckle Dusting Stirs Exchange

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House: Seldom has a White House press conference question and answer exchange stirred up quite as much intense discussion as the incident of last Wednesday when the knuckles of a woman reporter were soundly dusted by President Kennedy.

What provoked the President's obvious ire was a declarative sentence by Sarah McClendon, reporter for a group of Southwestern and New England newspapers, that two State Department officials were "well-known security risks."

Mrs. McClendon did not supply the names until challenged to do so by the President. If he had not demanded the names of her, however, there would have been a vague, but still public record of his administration harboring men who could or should not be trusted with government business.

Editors and reporters not only in Washington, but across the nation have reacted strongly to the now well-identified "McClendon incident." Newspapers large and small have carried editorial comment. There has been much mail on the subject to the White House some of it addressed to Mrs. McClendon.

Mrs. McClendon is not without her defenders, apparently among those who feel that virtually any administration is pocked by so-called security risks and that virtually any tactics to dislodge or expose them are commendable. With no pretense at having attempted an opinion survey in depth, it may be reported, however, that Mrs. McClendon's critics seem to outnumber her defenders by a wide margin.

Much of this criticism is quite apart from the two State Department officials involved, but has to do with the basic structure of the presidential news conference, itself. A great many Washington reporters feel it is a destructive mistake to use the conference as a caustic echo chamber. Not only President Kennedy, but his immediate predecessors, Messrs. Eisenhower and Truman, were angered and felt a sense of unjustified entrapment by accusatory questions.

A President cannot and certainly should not expect news conferences questions invariably to be what he might consider the "nice" type. If there were not frequent questions on controversial subjects, many of which a Chief Executive would prefer not to have dragged out in public, the press conference would not reflect the main stream of current events in a most contentious world.

To treat a President as a defense witness to be cross-examined in the best county prosecutor manner is another matter, however. Is it the purpose of a press conference to pin a President's ears back? Or is the main purpose to putting statements of accusatory get from him as much news as possible on his actions and policies?

1,000 Palms Meeting Set
Mina Welcome, president of the Thousand Palms chamber of commerce, reminded members today of the regular meeting of the organization Thursday at the Dewey Wallace home in Arbol Real at 7:30 p.m.

Reports are scheduled from Mrs. Edna Sautter, chairman of the committee arranging the Thousand Palms booth at the India Date Festival, the committee studying administration plans for the new Recreation Center now being built and from the building committee for the Community Building.

Reminder Given
On License Tab
Deadline Feb. 5

Motorists were reminded today that Monday, February 5, is the deadline day for applying for 1962 automobile license tabs and payment of "in lieu" taxes. If unpaid by that day, penalties will be added to the original bill. Applications may be made in person at automobile club offices, motor vehicle department offices and at a special window at the Bank of America. This year the Bank bureau will be open until 3 p.m. on Monday, the final day. The bank will not be open Saturday and motorists were advised to apply now as a last minute rush is again anticipated Monday.

New Golf Course Under Study

TWENTYNINE PALMS — The Park and Recreation District board here has issued a statement concerning the possible installation of a municipal golf course in the Twentynine Palms Area as follows:

Because of the fact that there have been proposals submitted to the district from firms interested in leasing golf courses:

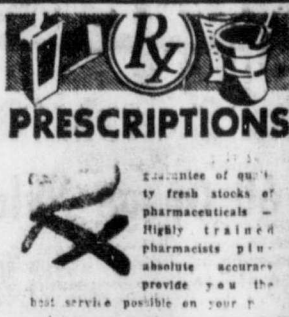

And because an independent survey conducted for the district indicated that the people of Twentynine Palms placed a municipal golf course at the top of the list of recreation needs:

The local recreation district has requested the National Golf Foundation and other organizations to conduct feasibility surveys concerning the possible installation of a municipal course in this area.

The park and recreation board is now reviewing information being received from these sources as well as proposals being submitted.

A preliminary feasibility report conducted by the National Golf Foundation indicated that the installation of a municipal course in the Twentynine Palms area is feasible, providing a proper lease arrangement can be secured.

The National Golf Foundation is completing a thorough report which will be submitted to the board in a few days.

Over 500 Expected at Washington State Picnic

An annual community picnic started here 11 years ago by a small group of former residents of Bremerton and Kitsap County in Washington, has grown steadily and this year approximately 500 are expected at the event.

The Bremerton and Kitsap County picnic is scheduled for Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday and the site again will be Tamarisk Park.

Al Oass is chairman of the committee, assisted by Bob Heath, Al Kaylor and Rudy Campbell.

to all former residents of Bremerton now living here and in other Southern California communities to attend. Last year the Guest Register showed attendance from nine western states, approximately 60 southland cities and towns and 40 who made the trip from Washington state to spend some time in Palm Springs.

In hibernation, a ground squirrel's heart throbs only three times a minute, compared to a normal 360 beats a minute.

HERE'S THE T-BIRDS! Twenty-five Thunderbirds, furnished by Beverly Hills Ford dealer Holmes Tuttle, will be used as official cars of the Palm Springs Golf Classic. The Birds' lovely drivers will be members of the Classic's ladies' committee. They will be used for transportation of tournament officials, contestants and press members.

GOLDEN CROWN AWAITS

Queen Scheherazade To be Named Feb. 3

INDIO — A towering golden crown awaits the Riverside County princess to be selected from 11 representatives to reign as Queen Scheherazade over the coming Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival here, Feb. 16 through 25.

Judging will take place Saturday, Feb. 3, at 1:30 p.m. at the Taj Mahal in Indio. Marines from Twentynine Palms will provide music and serve as escorts for the princesses.

The queen's identity will remain secret until coronation ceremonies at 10 p.m., the highlight of the Coronation Ball. The ball, sponsored by the Indio JayCees, will also be held in the Taj Mahal and it begins at 8:30 p.m. Queen Scheherazade Jayne Starrs, 1961, will crown her successor.

The eventful day will also include a dinner in the new Caravansary at 6:30 to 8 p.m. Attendance to the contest is free; the dinner is $2 per person and the dance is $1.50 per person. Students with ASB cards will be admitted to the ball for $1. Tickets are available from any member of the JayCees throughout Riverside County.

Vieing for the crown are Mary Nelson, Miss Beaumont; Kay Nielson, Miss Blythe; Raquel Blake, Miss Elsinore; Sandra Walters, Miss Corona; Suzanne Chase, Miss Perris; Teresa Mengel, Miss Hemet; Diane Ekwall, Miss San Jacinto; Jane Franklin, Miss Coachella Valley; Linda Lou Strange-man, Miss Riverside; Sheri Good, Miss Palm Springs, and Alice Jean Burk, Miss Banning.

Marin Has Bonus for Collection

TWENTYNINE PALMS — Marine First Sergeant M. Jaklewicz of the Marine Base near here, hit the jackpot for his stamp collection just after Christmas when he received an airmail letter from Father A. F. Mendoza, former Chaplain at the base. Mendoza is presently serving with the U. S. Naval Mobile Construction Battalion Number One at the South Pole.

Postal date on the Sergeant's letter was Dec. 14, 1961, exactly 50 years after Roald Amundsen of Norway officially reached the South Pole.

The Antarctic-born letter's cancelling stamp read, "U. S. N. Pole Station, Antarctica." Also on the front of the envelope was "Deep Freeze South Pole Station" with a figure depicting a Navyman holding the globe with the South Pole across his shoulder.

A double stamped cache (coin) on the rear of the envelope shows a penguin perching on ice with four stars overhead, and reads, "U. S. Navy — Operation Deepfreeze." The other cache reads "Task Force 43," and "Seapower Supports Science" including their symbols.

Further conversation with the 2nd Light Antiaircraft Missile re-enlistment disclosed the philatelist (stamp collector) corresponds with friends the world over and sends stamps to many orphanages, boys and girls schools, and even a Buddhist Monk in Japan. He has served with the United Nations at their headquarters and held other interesting duties.

Bridge Club Record Set

A new high in attendance was set at the last meeting of the month for the Desert Duplicate Bridge Club, when 23 full tables turned out for play.

Horoscope Forecast

By CARROLL RIGTER

Thursday, February 1

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime is especially good for some unexpected conditions arising to give you a much better indication where the Stars are most strongly operating in your favor. Accept such chances to advance by definite and determined action now and you make big headway. The evening finds you able to reduce such overall policies to a workable success. Be detailed.

ARIES (Birthdays from Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Daytime hours are best adapted to working out plans and novel ideas that will bring far greater success in the future. Any civic matters are ideally handled in the evening, however, or whatever has to do with the public in general.

TAURUS (Birthdays from Apr. 20 to May 20) — Carry through with ideas that will lead to better understanding with others, whether in personal or business matters, or where new agreements are concerned. Be sure to get out in the evening and make new contacts.

GEMINI (Birthdays from May 21 to June 21) — Associates will cooperate with you fully until the sun goes down, especially on matters of policy that make the future more successful. Important you are very devoted to loved one this evening. Show real affection and regard.

MOON CHILDREN (Birthdays from June 22 to July 21) — While much can be accomplished throughout the day and evening, it is important that you plan carefully first and not jump into things, as is your usual custom. Then fine benefits accrue. Step out in P. M. for fun with friends.

LEO (Birthdays from July 22 to Aug. 21) — Practice up on any special talents you may have so that you will achieve success with them in the early future. Get busy tonight analyzing your progress so far and then plan how to be more efficient with the aid of fellow workers.

VIRGO (Birthdays from Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Take the time to learn from close ties what it is they expect from you in the future so that there is greater security and happiness. Then analyze your position and do the utmost to please them. This will increase own blessings.

LIBRA (Birthdays from Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Much activity is fine now, whether it is running business or personal errands, calling on relatives or the trade, etc. Also, get information you need from your paper. Please kin in P.M.

SCORPIO (Birthdays from Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Putting property in better order or taking the steps that will increase income appreciably is fine until the sun sets. Devote evening to whatever activities will bring you far more prestige than you have enjoyed in the past. Be gay.

SAGITTARIUS (Birthdays from Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Any personal matters of importance can be handled very wisely today. Also, see that you improve appearance during any free time that you may have. Sit down and plan a more workable budget in the evening that can truly be followed.

CAPRICORN (Birthdays from Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — You can make your future more proficient, profitable by sitting down now and planning your time and adopting more efficient methods. Be sure to get socially in the evening so that you make good business contacts as well as have fun.

AQUARIUS (Birthdays from Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Be sure you are up to the line ideas of a blunt but generous friend who has your interest at heart. Then you get ahead more quickly if you follow them. Expansion is important to you right now. Deal more wisely with others. "Grow".

PISCES (Birthdays from Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Higher-ups will take an interest in you today, if you will make it a point to contact them, and you can forge ahead more quickly with their generous assistance. Relax tonight in the company of good and charming friends. Have fun.

Rosy Future In Chemicals Is Predicted

NEW YORK (UPI)—Everything coming up looks rosy for the chemical industry. The tallies for 1961 and the projections for 1962 spell one word — growth, some forecasters say.

This despite an uncertain price picture in 1961. Sales totaled $27.7 billion in 1960, are expected to show a rise of as much as 5 per cent for 1961, and grow further going into 1962.

By mid-1961, the industry was operating at about 75 per cent of capacity and at year-end was expected to rise to 80 per cent.

Outputs up 5 Per Cent — Output, according to industry sources, rose 5 per cent from the 1960 total with the principal increases coming in basic organic chemicals, plastics materials, soap and related products, and miscellaneous groups such as drugs and industrial gases.

Output in 1962 is expected to rise 9 per cent over 1961, based on the 10 per cent rise in the level of industrial production estimated for 1962.

The principal gains next year are expected to occur in those areas which have shown above-average growth in recent years, especially basic organic chemicals, plastics, synthetic rubber, man-made fibers and atomic energy.

The paradox this year has been the optimistic growth in the face of falling prices. Prices of industrial chemicals have declined 3.1 per cent over the past year—a sharper drop than occurred during a similar period in the 1958 recession.

This decline is said to reflect the recent softness in profits from chemical manufacturing. However, many companies believe continuing cost increases and an expected rise in demand for industrial chemicals in 1962 will tend to strengthen prices.

Stocks Rise 25 Per Cent — The brighter prospects for chemical producers are reflected in stock market prices. Standard & Poor's index of chemical stock prices has risen about 25 per cent since October, 1960.

Since the end of April, 1961, the over-all value of chemical stocks has increased about 8 per cent compared with a 2 per cent rise in industrials.

Leaders in the field attribute the industry's growth to its "competitive advantage in the foreign market, experience, patent system, and its high level of expenditures for research and development."

If Your Child Is Born Today, He, or she, will soon evince such a brilliant mind that everyone will be charmed, particularly teachers, and you as parents can take reasonable pride in this. However, be sure you plan education so that it is slanted toward the practical, where a most lucrative future is indicated particularly in the field of banking or big business, the law, or medicine. Teach ethics, too.

FEARSOME LOOKING Bobby Lindsey, 6, appears ready for the professional football ranks after a scrimmage session which cost him a black eye and missing teeth. EXPERTS REPORT

Things Look Good Here for 20 Years

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Southern California's vast Inland Empire may show a 400 per cent increase in the recreation and tourist industry in the next 20 years if a "bold new program" of development is undertaken, the Southern California Research Council (SCRC) has predicted.

The SCRC devoted its ninth annual report to the Inland Empire, comprising all or parts of the counties of Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura, Santa Barbara, Kern, San Bernardino, Riverside, San Diego, Imperial, Inyo, Mono. The area includes parts of the Sierra Nevada and coastal mountains and the high and low deserts.

Predicted increases in recreation and tourism, agriculture, livestock, and mineral extraction, the report said, will all be dependent on creation of "a balanced environment" and development of highways and conservation of water.

The report was summarized at a press conference in the Jonathan Club by Prof. Gordon K. Douglass of the Pomona College economics department.

In agriculture, the report predicted that by 1980, 80 per cent of Southern California's farm acreage will be in the Inland Empire. Crop demand, it said, will rise slowly and will be about 50 per cent higher than the current level by 1980—provided water is available in adequate quantity.

Production of livestock is expected to triple during the next 20 years.

In defense activities, the report stated, "prospects for continued rapid growth are slim."

Mineral extraction employment is expected to rise about 60 per cent.

The SCRC report said there is little possibility of a massive "spillover" of population from the Los Angeles metropolitan area into the Inland Empire. It was explained that most sections are considered too far from the metropolitan core to support a large suburban population.

The report noted that most major highways are designed presently to carry traffic through, rather than into, the Inland Empire and added:

"In the future, as land uses alter and the tempo of economic activity picks up, the region's highways, rail facilities, airports and pipelines must be designed to support increasingly heavy intraregional traffic flows as well."

Two pages of the 98-page report were devoted to defense activities which currently account for employment of 43,800 persons, mostly in the high desert, with an annual payroll of $214,196,000.

The report warned that the area must "create the kind of environment in which gifted technical people will want to live and work and raise their children."

"If not," the report added, "defense employment will surely decline."

LONG COFFEE BREAK

Barbara Healy, 23-year-old 4-H Club member from Downey, Calif., teaches English to a group of farm children in Brazil.

Dexterity of a farmhand fascinates Barbara as she watches him hurl green coffee beans up and down to free them of leaves.

The California farm girl finds that cattle are pretty much the same the world over. Vast herds of beef cattle amazed her.

King Features Syndicate

SINCE 1948, nearly 1,500 rural young people from other countries have lived with farm families in the United States. An almost equal number of their American counterparts have gone overseas as grass roots ambassadors, sharing daily living experiences and activities with their hosts. Their goal is the understanding of other peoples and their right to be different, as well as to present a true picture of the United States and its people.

Barbara Healy, 23, lives on a small farm near Downey, Calif. Recently, as a 4-H club member, she was chosen one of three International Farm Youth Exchangees to spend several months on a large coffee and cattle ranch in Brazil. These photos tell the story of how Barbara, a U. S. Ambassador without portfolio, earned the respect of her hosts and friends across the border while increasing their admiration for the citizens of the United States.

Standard plantation washing machine consists of hands and soap, Barbara learns.

Old hand with farm animals, Barbara cuddles a baby pig.

An American-style tossed salad is mixed by Barbara for her hosts in Brazil while their cook, who taught her how to prepare native dishes, looks on.

Argentina Gauchos Like Movie Stars

SALTA, Argentina (UPI)—What do Argentina's famed hard-riding gauchos think of he-man Hollywood stars Yul Brynner and Tony Curtis, whom they worked with in a new movie?

They think Brynner is a real he-man and admire his riding ability, according to a wide sampling of opinion on the set of the film "Taras Bulba."

But most of those interviewed felt Curtis was a warmer and more charming person. And they were in genuine awe of his first-class, authentic swordsmanship.

The gauchos also felt the visiting "Americanos" were kind bosses, admired them because "you Americans always stand together"—and said the United States should send more stars to Latin America because they have great goodwill influence.

"They have very much influence—more than you think," said one of the flamboyant horsemen. Emiliano Gutierrez, 41, a tobacco farmer.

Of the stars, these were typical comments:

Jose Sandoval, 32, a cattle herder—"Brynner is a fine horseman and talks straight. He talked to each of us."

Angel Diaz, 23, a laborer: "Brynner is like one of us. He rides with all his heart and laughs that way too."

Felix Yanci, 37, a farm worker and, like the rest, a gaucha—"Curtis was my favorite. He is more charming and more accessible than Brynner."

Vicente Villa, 33, a cattle owner—"I too preferred Curtis. I like his outgoing way. At the beginning, he could not understand much, but he tried hard and, after a while, understood."

Fernando Payo, 40, a retired soldier and silver mine owner—"Neither Curtis or Brynner are big-headed."

Anxiety Grows on Indonesia

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Little Ones Into Big Ones:
There is growing anxiety that the Dutch-Indonesian dispute over West New Guinea might set off a major conflagration involving the big powers. Allied off-stage moves are under way to persuade Indonesia's eager Sukarno to hold off any forceful action. The Dutch also are being diplomatically advised to make the friendliest possible gestures toward Indonesia. If Sukarno were to start an armed invasion, diplomats fear that Holland, Australia and possibly others might have no choice but to oppose it. Indonesia already is receiving military supplies from Russia, including war planes. This opens up the specter of indirect East-West intervention with unforeseeable consequences. The next few weeks are considered crucial.

Common Market:
A break may be near in the deadlock over farm policy among the six European Common Market nations. The Common Market is one of the greatest bulwarks blocking Nikita Khrushchev's ambitions for a Communist march across Europe. Advancement toward its goal of removing all trade barriers in Western Europe has been held up by French-West German differences over sale of agricultural products. But now that agreement seems near, the six also will be more inclined to talk of reducing tariff barriers against the United States and to resume negotiations on Britain's entry into the trading "club."

Red Common Market:
Soviet Russia is beginning to convert her European satellites into an East European common market. East German planners disclosed last week that electric power systems of East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary will be tied together this month. Later this year, a 220 kilowatt double line is scheduled to go into operation between Hungary and the Ukraine, thus tying the Russian power network to that of Eastern Europe. In Prague a distribution center for electric power is to be erected to permit exchange of electricity among the iron curtain countries at times of peak consumption.

Vatican Vs. Cuba:
The Vatican still holds out hope, but not much, for eased relations between the Holy See and "Marxist-Leninist" Cuba. The fact that the Vatican waited months before confirming the excommunication of Castro showed it still had hope. Now it has accepted a new ambassador from Cuba. Even if a final break with the Castro government comes, the Catholic Church is in Cuba to stay and will fight every inch of the way, as it has in Poland, Czechoslovakia and other iron curtain countries.

Water Service Expanded

A new water service began in construction which began Dec. Monday for a 80 acre area in the northern end of Palm Springs with the opening of Palm Springs Water Company lines to the Desert Highland Estates area north of Las Vegas Road adjacent to the KCMJ radio station.

Paul Payne, general manager of the water utility, opened the nozzles which poured water into the new system which was built at a cost of $40,000. Some 4 miles of 4, 6 and 8 inch piping was used.

There are approximately 300 lots in the area serviced by the water utility, with about 75 homes built at the present time.

The Palm Springs Water Company succeeds the Palm Springs Vista Mutual Water Company in servicing the area.

Trailerites Rough It In British Columbia

Members of the greater Palm Springs giant trailer population, Beware! You are being watched!

A vivid example of such surveillance was forwarded to the Desert Sun offices by reader Malcom P. Andrus as follows:

Memo for City Editor
Desert Sun
Sir:

Recently received a letter from a logger friend of mine who works in the "bush" in a small town—Salmon Arm—Okanagan County, British Columbia.

Here's an extract regarding tourists from California which I think is worthy of publication in your valued paper. You are at liberty to use it if you so desire.

'Loaded for Bear'
"Honestly, from California will come a car loaded for bear, pulling a trailer six times the length of the car. They want to get back to nature, see, so in this trailer they have T.V., automatic washer, dryer, dish cleaner, flush toilet, hot and cold water, tinted glass, inlaid table tops, gas heat, automatic shoe lacers, and on top of the trailer, a large boat with a small one on top of the car. They come to B. C. to rough it.

They never see B.C.—they are too busy watching the rear view mirror to see if something fell off. That's a typical Californian."

Re: this rough diamond's story about the auto-tourists up north—I lived in Seattle for many years—I go up into the Canadian "bush" nearly every year. Was up there twice last year. The migration of auto tourists up that way during the summer months is really "one for the books."

'Heaven on Earth'
Incidentally, if one of these days you'd like to publish a vacation itinerary up to the Okanagan County—it's roughly 2,000 miles due north of here—I'd be more than pleased to prepare one for you.

I'm very familiar with that section. To me the approved solution for living as far as locations go are: Palm Springs in the winter months and the Okanagan, B. C., in the summer. In this way you enjoy "heaven on earth" (or as near to it as you can get on this mundane sphere) for 12 months a year, it's a question of "live and learn."

Very respectfully,
Malcom P. Andrus

INDIO — You can travel to a land that abounds with camels, elephants, date palms and pretty girls garbed in flowing Arabian costumes in less time than it takes to cover the golf links.

Without a doubt the best time of the year to visit Indio is during the 10-day Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival, Feb. 16-25.

Open daily from 9:30 a.m., it offers a variety of features which range from massive exhibits of dates and citrus to camel and ostrich races.

Home Light Caravan to Show Here

More than 40 ways to make light both decorative and functional will be shown in a Caravan of Home Lighting Ideas which will be on display in Palm Springs from Thursday through Saturday.

The Caravan, sponsored by California Electric Power Company, will be located at the Palm Springs Plaza, McCallum Way, and will be open each day from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The Caravan consists of two units which demonstrate that well decorated homes are also well lighted. It shows how lighting is combined with other elements such as furniture, fabrics and color to achieve various effects in decor.

One unit is a custom-built highway coach containing portions of six rooms designed and decorated by Edward J. Wormley, internationally known designer.

By using unique and unusual display techniques such as wall-size mirrors and three-quarter scale furniture to give the illusion of spaciousness, Wormley has been able to include 27 new home lighting ideas.

He demonstrates the new home lighting concepts of area, task, perimeter and accent lighting. Light controls are used to demonstrate the importance of being able to vary illumination from dim to bright.

The second unit in the Caravan is a house trailer containing four rooms designed by C. Eugene Stephenson, a noted authority on lighting.

'COUNTERINSURGENCY'?

New Words to Stress Cold War

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI) — New words—"paramilitary" and "counterinsurgency"—mark the Army's

SETS OFF A-BLAST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States set off a low-yield underground nuclear test Tuesday in Nevada. The Atomic Energy Commission said the power of the blast, the 11th announced since the United States resumed testing, was under 20 kilotons.

new stress on cold war activities. Guerrilla warfare is what it used to be called, and the Army is out to help friendly nations become expert at it. The new words got a workout Friday when Army experts testified before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr Jr. and Gen. George H. Decker, the Army chief of staff, stressed the importance assigned to paramilitary operations in such areas as South Viet Nam, where Army knowhow and such support elements as Army helicopter companies are helping government forces against Communist marauders.

Lt. Gen. Barksdale Hamlett, deputy chief of staff for Army operations, offered details on the Army's paramilitary activities. The aim, he said, "is to defeat Communist-inspired insurgency in each threatened country before the United States is faced with a fait accompli and is forced to take more drastic action."

The technique, he said, is to provide paramilitary support forces offering field training and guidance to the military forces of free nations faced with problems of Communist inspired insurgency. Those forces, he said, can give operational advice or participate "if required" in activities including guerrilla operations.

Of equal importance, however, is the fact that the U.S. forces can help bring stability in other nations through such efforts as public health, construction and the like, Hamlett said.

Student Helpers Named For Katherine Finchy

Twenty-four pupils at Katherine Finchy elementary school are being officially recognized as school helpers, Principal John F. Mount announced today.

"These children assist the teachers on the primary and intermediate playgrounds," he said. "They wear red hats so that they can be spotted easily, both by pupils and teachers."

Purpose of the helper group is to assist in settling arguments in games and to patrol the playground areas during lunch and play time. They are required to be up on all the rules of the games that are played, so that they may act as impartial and informed umpires.

"These children will not be 'tattle tales,'" Principal Mount emphasized. "This is not the purpose for forming this group, but rather to aid the youngsters in the democratic process of working with their peers."

Every member of the group has been carefully chosen by his own classmates, for the qualities of sound judgment and even temperament.

World's Top Golf Pros Shoot First 18 Today

Snead Tags Tamarisk As Toughest Course

Slammin' Sammy Snead led the field of the world's leading professional golfers when 128 of them teed off this morning in golf's richest and longest tournament—the third annual Palm Springs Classic.

Snead, a real money player and golf's all-time leading money winner, hasn't been a regular on the pro trail for many years and is making his first big 1962 effort. He arrived in Palm Springs Saturday and has been tuning up on the five courses to be played during the five-day tourney.

Tamarisk Toughest
After a round on each course, three of which he hadn't played before, Snead remarked, "what it boils down to is who can drive the straightest and who can putt the best. There is a premium on accuracy off the tee on these courses. But after playing the five, I think the Tamarisk course is the toughest of the lot."

The other four courses are: Eldorado, Thunderbird, Indian Wells and Bermuda Dunes where the final 18 holes will be played Sunday after the field has been cut to the low 60 pros.

During the first Palm Springs Golf Classic, Joe Campbell, the golfer who slipped a $50,000 check into his pocket for his hole-in-one on the Indian Wells course, picks Eldorado as the toughest.

Fans should be on the lookout for Arnold Palmer, winner of the 1960 Palm Springs Classic and leading money winner during that year. Arnie played nine holes with former President Eisenhower on the Bermuda Dunes layout and may have picked up a few pointers and a bit of local knowledge.

Many Celebs
Many celebrities in the amateur ranks teamed with one professional for today's round and will switch each day during the 72-hole pro-am event which ends Saturday. Playing at Tamarisk today were Jim Garner, Jack Kelly, Les Brown, Desi Arnaz, Albie Pearson, who teamed with Bob McCallister to cop the event at the recent Bing Crosby teefest, John Weissmuller, Bob Hope, Phil Harris, Randy Scott, Lawrence Welk, and Hoagy Carmichael.

Defending champion Billy Maxwell, Dutch Harrison, Jimmy Demaret and Lloyd Mangrum fired their first rounds on the Eldorado course today. Some of the golfers may be subjected to some distraction on the 11th fairway at Eldorado. That's where Eisenhower is staying in a fairway cottage during his winter vacation.

$170,000 From Mercy Bowl Game

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—An estimated $170,000 will be added Friday to the fund for relatives and survivors of the 1960 plane crash that took the lives of 17 members of the California Polytechnic College (San Luis Obispo) football team.

The money represents profits from the Mercy Bowl football game between Fresno State College and Bowling Green University played here Thanksgiving Day.

Dr. Ferron C. Losee, game director and director of athletics at Los Angeles State College, will present a check for the amount to Dr. Clyde Fisher, chairman of the memorial fund.

The crash that killed 17 members of the Cal Poly football team and injured 23 others occurred Oct. 29, 1960, as the plane was taking off from Toledo, Ohio, after a game with Bowling Green.

The memorial fund stood at around $75,000 before the Mercy Bowl game.

San Jose State Cage Team Forfeits 3 Tilts

By MICHAEL HUDSON
United Press International

The West Coast Athletic Conference cage race was a shambles today following the forfeit of three league wins by co-leader San Jose State.

The red-faced Spartans Tuesday disclosed that star center Joe Braun had been ineligible all year. For that reason they forfeited all nine winning games in which he had appeared and their season mark of 11-4 suddenly became 2-13 and 0-3 in WCAC play.

It seems that Braun had performed for two years for Southern California before transferring to San Jose and then had told the Spartans he played only one season for USC.

"We still consider Braun a fine boy," said physical education director Walt McPherson. "We just wish he had a better memory."

This gave St. Mary's, Pacific, and USF unexpected wins and pushed St. Mary's into second place with a 2-0 record. Loyola is now undisputed leader with a 3-0 mark.

Points Scarce

In action on the court Tuesday night, two of the West's best met at San Jose with Stanford squeezing out a 45-41 win over Santa Clara.

Both teams had trouble locating the basket and the difference was Stanford veteran John Windsor who hit 20 points and always seemed to be able to get two points when the Cards needed them.

This left Stanford with a 14-4 record and the Broncos at 12-4. LeRoy Jackson had 19 for the losers, who showed the effects of their two-week lay-off with their poor shooting.

In the Northwest independent circuit, where upsets are the rule, Seattle—fresh from almost toppling mighty Oregon State—was upended by lowly Portland 67-65 at Seattle.

Portland had lost to the Chiefs eight straight times going into the battle and few thought that Seattle would not make it nine.

Ike Plays Golf With British Pro

Former President Eisenhower played a round of golf yesterday at the Bermuda Dunes Country Club, course to be played on the final day of the third annual Palm Springs Classic, with British pro Bernard Hunt and Leonard K. Firestone, president of the Classic.

No scores were revealed, but a spokesman at the club indicated that the general fired a good round with the British pro and tournament president, Firestone.

Betty Grable Hosts Golfers

Film famous Betty Grable hosted a private party at the Canyon Country Club yesterday in which the best score posted was an 86 by Evelyn Roen.

Best ball winners at the new Palm Springs golf club were Mitzi Beckman, Val Evans, Ada Hallett and Bea Waldman.

GOOD TEAM EFFORT

Indians Tromp Tigers, 56-51

Palm Springs high school Indians jumped to an early lead and went on to defeat the San Jacinto Tigers in a non-league basketball game here last night, 56-51, to even the season series.

In a team effort all the way, Coach George Hertzke's Tribemen struck down the visiting Cats to bounce back into the win column after dropping a league game to Banning Friday night. Last night's victory also made up for the defeat handed the Indians earlier in the season by the Tigers when they went on a scoring rampage to win, 87-61.

After a 12-8 lead at the end of the first stanza, the two high school five's played the second quarter on even terms scoring 13 tallies apiece and at halftime the Indians were nursing a four point margin and led, 25-21.

The Indians edged further ahead in the third period and outscored the Bengals, 14-9. The tempo increased during the final play period as San Jacinto bagged 21 points to the Indians 17. But at the sound of the final buzzer, the Tribemen were in front and won, 56-51.

Good fundamental basketball was displayed by Coach Hertzke's "big five" and two of the Indians, Tyron Taylor and Steve Gottlieb scored in double digits to share scoring honors. Little playmaker Taylor ripped the nets for 14 markers while Gottlieb was adding 12 to the score book.

During the fourth period, when the 'Cats sharpened their shooting eyes, forward Gus Walton hit some fine two pointers to offset the Bengals scoring punch. Mike Clements and Gottlieb gave another outstanding performance with their rebounding which added greatly to the Indians victory. The local cagers made it a perfect night as the Bee team won, 38-33.

DESERT AREA RESIDENT Harry Voelker, center, is congratulated by Los Angeles Angels bosses Gene Autry and Bob Reynolds after the announcement at the Chi

Chi Friday that he was leaving Palm Springs to take over as general manager of the Austin Baseball Club in Austin, Texas.

Voelker to Be Gen. Mgr. Of Ball Club

Harry Voelker, long-time radio and newspaperman in the desert area, has left the desert to take over the general management of the Austin Baseball Club in Austin, Tex.

Voelker, who last year was executive chairman of the Desert Angels Committee in Palm Springs, will report in Austin, Tex., on Feb. 1 to take over his new position.

No novice to baseball, Voelker is returning to a club he managed in 1951-52 when it was called the Big State League, a position which won him the honor of being runner-up as minor league executive of the year.

Voelker was praised by Mayor Frank Bogert and Desert Angel Committee chairman Kenneth Kirk for his part in helping to bring the Los Angeles Angels to Palm Springs for Spring training, a job he pursued on almost the very day the American League franchise was given to the new Los Angeles club.

At the Palm Springs Chi Chi Friday, Gene Autry, chairman of the Board and Bob Reynolds, president of the Angels, congratulated Voelker on the job he did here last year, and wished him the best of luck in his new position.

Kaiser and Labor Talk Now Over

A two-day meeting between top officials of the Kaiser Steel Co., the United Steelworkers of America, and three public members ended in the Riviera Hotel yesterday with reserved optimism.

Dr. George Taylor, University of Pittsburgh professor who is chairman of the committee, told The Desert Sun Tuesday that "good progress" had been achieved in the meetings. The meeting, the ninth of the long-range committee designed to find an "equitable distribution" of Kaiser's earnings, had evolved tentative formulae, Taylor said.

Nothing Definite
"Of course because this is long-range, what looks good right now may need adjustment. There is nothing definite in findings now," he said.

The Tuesday luncheon of the committee was attended by officials of Steelworkers locals in Fontana. No comment was made on the presence of the local officials in the top echelon meeting. The press was hurriedly ushered from the luncheon room while Dr. Taylor was still addressing general comments to a reporter.

Strictly Kaiser
Dr. Taylor emphasized that the meetings were strictly concerned with Kaiser steel operations. An undisclosed source had reported early Tuesday the committee sought an industry-wide pattern of three-way study groups. Kaiser has not participated in industry-wide negotiation programs since it left the industry negotiations to end the 1959 steel strike.

"The subcommittees will continue their meetings, and it is expected another full committee meeting will be scheduled in the near future," the committee reported.

Lions Club to Hear Promising Young Pianist

Robert Franks, 16, a junior at Palm Springs High School and considered a most promising young pianist, will perform for the Lions Club at its luncheon in the Chi Chi tomorrow noon, according to program chairman Robert A. Schlesinger.

The program, Schlesinger said, will include selections by Debussy, De Falla, Rachmaninoff and Paganini, in addition to jazz improvisations.

Also scheduled for the session to be conducted by Jack Riordan, president, is a report on the benefit breakfast staged by the club in connection with the Rodeo Parade last Saturday.

"BE A MUSICIAN," Dr. George Milkie, auctioneer, asks as he puts a whatchamacallit on the blocks at the March of Dimes party in the Tennis Club. To play the thing, the musician merely bounces it on the floor. The party put the March within a few hundred dollars of its $5,000 goal.

March of Dimes To Go Over Top

The Palm Springs March of Dimes Goal is within a few hundred dollars of its $5,000 goal, following a dinner-dance and auction at the Tennis Club, Mrs. Harry Chaddick, local fund chairman said today.

The party and auction added about $1,900 to the fund, she said, "and I expect the final checks, which are still coming in, will put us over the top."

Some 180 persons attended the Tennis Club affair, where Dr. George Milkie auctioned off items ranging from a painting to a French poodle.

The painting by O.E.L. Graves was picked up by Mrs. George Godstein for $225. Mrs. Godfrey King indicated how dearly she wanted "Charlie Brown," the poodle, by bidding a high $728.

Thief Sentenced
INDIO — A sentence of three years probation and order to make restitution to two plush Palm Springs hotels was meted out to Gerald B. Strunk, 26, of Santa Monica yesterday in Judge Merrill Brown's Superior court here.

Strunk, who turned himself in shortly after the theft Jan. 10 at the El Mirador, exhibited remorse for his act and escaped a jail sentence.

He was ordered to make restitution in the amount of $169.33 and was fined $250 plus $12.50 in assessments by Judge Brown and ordered to remain in the county during the three years probation.

Appearance Second in Two Years

Although he does not sketch or paint himself, Vincent Price, next artist to appear on the Community Forum Series Thursday, at 8 p.m. in the High School Auditorium, has gained renown as a major art collector and critic. He is a patron of several contemporary American artists.

"After Mr. Price appeared on the Series two years ago," said Swanley Rosin, chairman of the forum, "we had many requests to bring him back. With his vast background in the arts, he could appear several times without ever repeating himself."

A dramatic entertainment entitled, "Three American Voices," will be Price's presentation this time. He will interpret the selected works of Walt Whitman, James McNeill Whistler and a one-man version of a famous Tennessee Williams one-act play.

Tickets for Price's appearance are available at the Jewish Community Center, Grone's Shoes, Ramon Drug and the Chamber of Commerce. For the convenience of shoppers, there will be a Forum table in front of the Bank of America on Palm Canyon today and tomorrow.

Mayor Bogert will issue the proclamation in honor of the Feb. 8 52nd birthday of the Boy Scouts of America. The Boy Scouts, which has had more than 34 million members since 1910, has grown in the Palm Springs district to 21 units, with 457 boys.

The proclamation honors the Scouts' new program to "Strengthen America — Character Counts," and was set to "acclaim its new program, since the first line of important part the family plays our Nation's defense lies in the development of boys, of character of its people and of the Scouting, and the American way of life . . . and to appreciate the support of volunteer leaders and sponsoring groups.

To Hospital From Dive

Mrs. Melba Trenary, 19, a resident of the Ramon Trailer Park, was listed as in satisfactory condition in Desert Hospital today after a pool-bottom dive Tuesday.

Mrs. Trenary was taken to Desert Hospital for treatment and observation after she apparently struck the bottom of the trailer park swimming pool in dive, Palm Springs police reported.

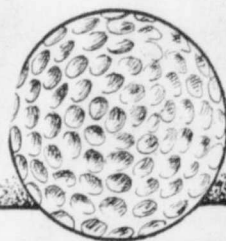

Dining Room's Furniture Gone

Dr. David Ascher, 2043 Berne Drive, Palm Springs, didn't mind the man who came to dinner. It was the one who took the dining room furniture that raised his ire.

Dr. Ascher, who also has a home in the Los Angeles area, told police Tuesday that a dining room table, four chairs, and a stack of household linens were taken from his home here between last Wednesday and yesterday.

A sliding glass door into the dining room was found open, and the room bare when Dr. Ascher arrived Tuesday. The missing furnishings are valued at approximately $535, he said.

Guest Church Soloist Marks 94th Birthday

Rev. A. D. Wagner of Temple City, celebrated his 94th birthday last Sunday by performing as guest soloist at the Desert Hot Springs Community Methodist Church. Following the morning service, Rev. Wagner, who is the father of Mrs. Archie Matson, wife of the pastor of the church, was tendered a surprise birthday party by members of the congregation.

Mrs. Crittenden Adams of Cape Cod, Mass., and her sister, Lady Arthur Evans, of London, Eng., have re-opened their homes in Cholla Gardens and plan to remain here for several months.

Admiral and Mrs. R. M. Gillette USN (Ret.), and Captain and Mrs. Andy Galloway USN (Ret.), of San Diego, are spending several days here as the house guests of Brigadier General and Mrs. John S. E. Young, USMC (Ret.). Admiral and Mrs. Gillette and the Youngs have been friends since 1927 when they were stationed together in the Virgin Islands.

Wynn Hershey, well known interior decorator of New York City, planned in on Friday for a 10-day visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hirschbein. Before returning to New York Hershey will handle an assignment at San Simeon for members of the Hearst family.

Novelist Admits Marriage Odds Poor on Writers

By ROBERTA C. SCHWARTZ
WASHINGTON (UPI) — "As matrimonial timber a novelist is the world's worst bet," says Alec Waugh, the author.

Friends are welcoming back Miss M. Ilta Campbell of Beaumont, a former resident of our town, who will be living here for a few weeks while she assists Mrs. J. Marie Ropp in her real estate office.

The A. L. Eatons reported spending a few enjoyable days in Santa Barbara last week as the guests of the W. W. Christians.

Gifts, birthday cake and best wishes greeted Mrs. George Bement and Mrs. Harry Jacobson when they attended a sewing bee held by 25 members of the American Legion Auxiliary at the home of Mrs. Tom Moon Thursday. The party came as a complete surprise to the two ladies who share the same birthday.

The Blake Streetsons of St. Paul, Minn., who have been the house guests of their aunt and uncle, Mr.

Touches on Lighter Side
The 63-year-old British novelist entertained an audience at the Library of Congress with his anecdotes about the lighter side of the novelist's profession. "I am not a very serious person," he confessed.

Waugh said he thought women preferred to marry a man "who goes out of the house after breakfast and doesn't return until the end of the day." Then when he comes home from the office he and his wife can sip cocktails and tell each other their troubles.

But a writer who just stays around the house poses a peculiar problem. He and his wife "have nothing to tell each other at the end of the day."

Writers Considered Playboys
Waugh said another of the writer's problems is his reputation. Because readers consider him a "playboy" in real life, novelists make poor characters for books. "Writers seem casual and idle and it's hard to find sympathy for them," he noted. "A story about a novelist working far into the night doesn't ring true for any reader."

Among a writer's "great occupational hazards," the British author listed "debt and appearances in bankruptcy and divorce courts. I have been in debt all my life," he confessed, "but to make money you must spend it."

Tonight's party which the Dan Thorntons and Walter Cruttenburgs are hosting at Thunderbird, is not only the tee off for a flurry of Golf Classic affairs but could easily mark the beginning of THE season, as the "little season" ends.

Certainly the Desert Golf Classic Ball Friday night will find Palm Springs well into the winter social season as society turns out for this gala affair, which will be the first of the big balls and sure to see a fabulous array of long formal gowns, furs and jewels.

Three big social events mark next week's calendar. Ethel and Mel Eaton will be hosting friends Tuesday evening at their beautiful new Pecos Road home above Thunderbird, this party which needs no reason d'être other than a house warming, has another one too, as the Eatons will unveil the big Renaissance Porcelain which artist O.E.L. Graves did for over their mantel. Those, who have peeked over the artist's shoulder, report it is one of the most exciting of Graves' new work. But, that is what they are saying about Vie's new Year's portrait, too.

The following night will be the preview showing of the second annual Decorators and Antiques Show at the Pavilion, and no one who attended last years show is going to miss this one.

Of course the dress may be a little unusual, as that's the night Dorothy Gray and Harry Joe Brown are taking over the Farmhouse in Cathedral City and entertaining for their cousins, Beatrice and Fernand Leval of New York, and Charlie and Millie Berns of Club "21." The invitation commands "slacks or twist dresses" and that's the tip off to the kind of party it will be, for Harry Joe is importing the "Twist Around The Clock" dancers from Columbia's new picture of that name.

Because the Farmhouse won't hold more, Dorothy has had to limit the party to under 100 and that isn't easy as every hostess knows... for a list just grows and grows.

And Thursday night is the Presidents' Ball at Thunderbird, honoring Eric Stainton.

And Saturday night the Chase Garfields are entertaining at their beautiful home at 310 S. Patencio. Yes, looks like the "little season" is over.

Bob Simons, who has just been invited to judge the world's biggest Arabian Horse Show in Scottsdale on Feb. 22-25 (they are expecting around 1,200 entries), is pretty proud of the two Burgess youngsters, Sally and Molly, who rode in the Rodeo parade in full hunter attire and won in the matched pair class, as he has been working with them. The girls are daughters of Clara and Bill Burgess, of 550 Palisades Dr., up on the mountain slope above Palm Springs. The Burgesss, who have another home in Pasadena, where he's in the electronics business, entertained the Shah of Morocco when he was here to see General Eisenhower this past week.

Bob had another interesting visitor the other day Steve Drumm, who was one of Hollywood's top make-up men and is a prize-winning amateur chef. He and his wife and Bob went over to the Alejo Road home of Bertha and Ed Robbin, where Drumm cooked up some Egyptian Chicken. Joining in the feasting were the Jim Abernathys and Helen Bowler.

A feature of the Desert Classic will be the nighty jam session at Thunderbird Country Club, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 4 p.m., presenting Pat Barbara and featuring Tony Gray. The Club is also arranging a "Come As You Are" buffet for Saturday evening that should appeal to the golfing crowd that doesn't want to get dressed up after a day out on the course.

Irene Rich Clifford of Santa Barbara and her daughter Frances, who is a sculptress, have been Palm Springs vacationing at the Mira Loma Hotel.

Among their visitors was Katherine Hepburn, who has been staying at the Kirk Douglas house.

The balmy Palm Springs weather prevailing along Palm Canyon Drive made the air conditioning in Chi Chi feel refreshing the other noontime. Particularly after we had stood out in the sunshine watching the workmen assemble the new marquee sign for the Crosby Brothers show. Counting out those letters is just about as precise as counting the number of spaces in a newspaper headline especially when you have to fit "Philip, Dennis and Lindsey" all in one line. Poor Earl will have the same problem next week, too, when he headlines the coming of the three Andrew Sisters, Maxene, Parry and LaVerne.

Charity or maybe charities should profit from the conference that was going on at Mac MacDonald's table in the Blue Room, where Thomas Pollack of Kiwanis and Jack Miles of Community Chest were huddling with Mac, who manages Desert Circus.

As the lunch crowd assembled it was interesting to see the bright sunny weather reflected in the bright cotton prints and Palm Springs type hats, and Polly Isenagie was looking deserty in a pretty blue, with three men giving her their undivided attention.

The Chef, who has Monday as his day off, made a mistake and showed up for work and decided to stay after he had changed into crisp white outfit, which is reverse procedure or something. Anyway, it seemed like a good time to get Lou Mawby and the chef interested in a low cal plate. It turned out well but if Lou produces that no cal dessert he's hinting at, that will be IT.

See Daughter In Graduation

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bentley (she's Jeanne Keller) went to Los Angeles to attend the mid-term graduation of their daughter Patricia from University of California at Los Angeles. Patricia, who has majored in television advertising, is a graduate of Hollywood High School and, before that, attended Cahuilla School in Palm Springs.

Called to East

Charlie Chaney of the Desert Inn's Roaring 20s Room, was called to New York by the death of his father.

LIGHTING THE TAPERS on the buffet table are Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Schiff, who entertained around 90 friends at a smart dinner dance at the Racquet Club. The tapers flank an arrangement of antherium and forced flowering peach blossoms, and in front stands the spun sugar replica of a Venetian gondolier, which the chef made in compliment to the hostess, who visits Italy each summer. (Anderson Photo)

Schiffs Host Annual Party On Anniversary

Chicagoans Evelyn and Sydney Schiff, who winter each year in Palm Springs at their Racquet Club bungalow, took over the Club's main dining room and the Mural Room for the annual celebration of their wedding anniversary.

A private bar had been set up in the Mural Room, where the Schiffs were receiving their guests. The hostess was wearing a french gown of blue crystal, embroidered with crystal beads, and carried an Italian brocade handbag with antique frame.

Antherium from Hawaii centered the canopy table, which offered a Schiff party specialty quiche lorraine tiny wieners and anchovies, wrapped in puff paste and other hors d'oeuvres.

There was dancing to the music of the Racquet Club orchestra, and guests dined from an elaborate buffet that featured a wide assortment of relishes and salads, including demoiseilles de cherbours, prawns flown here for the party from the Bay of Leone in Spain. The entree offered a choice of sirloin of beef striploin or chicken in white wine, and the dessert table featured a yogurt chocolate roll, for which the women were asking the recipe.

Among the guests were the Mel Eatons, Frank Hoys, Asher Levys, Co Thorntons, Bud and Vie Graves Doris and Joe Hutchins, Dorothy Gray Brown, Randolph Christies, Louise Nicoletti, Winsome Courtney, Dick Bagdasarians, Walter Sibberts, Herbert Carpenters, Maurice Horners, Kay Karahadians, E. A. Kelloways, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Godchaux.

Also: S. P. and Margaret Manasse (it was her birthday), Fred Karlens, Florence Murphy (Harold was called up to Tahoe by some burst pipes in their North Shore Club), Edith and Dick Edwards, the Ernie Youngs (she in a dramatic gold and white brocade), the Fred Karlens, Harold Kemps, Gladys Lawrence, Pat Wright, Jan King (just back from Golden Door... and looking it), the Bill Leebis, Judge and Mrs. L. Roth, Lynne Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. James Lillis of New York (here for a brief holiday... her first in Palm Springs), Bess Lucas and Marie Gardner and Fred Guterman of Los Angeles.

Create a Hash For Best Circles

Roast beef grilled over a charcoal fire makes excellent hash later. Dice the leftover beef, combine with diced cooked potatoes and chopped onion. Line fluted foil dishes with strips of bacon. Put in a dab of butter, place the hash in the center. Top with sliced fresh tomatoes. Grill over a wood charcoal briquet fire. When done, the hash circles can be turned out onto a serving platter and garnished with parsley and black olives for company fare.

DRESS FOR THE OCCASION

Shadow Ball a Success

By SUE RAYMOND

Two of the season's outstanding colors, black and white, were used in the decor at the 14th Annual Shadow Ball, one of the season's outstanding social affairs.

Gloria (Mrs. Bill) Newell and Mario (Mrs. Leon) Kennedy sat with their husbands under clusters of black and white balloons, and could have had advance information on the scheme of things. They both wore sheaths with sweetheart necklines. Gloria's was black crepe and bottomed with ostrich feathers, and Mario's was white and accented by clusters of sequins in rainbow colors.

Mrs. Frank Allen wore a full Messrs. and Mrs. Robert Beck, was appliqued with sequins and crystal. Its two-tiered skirt is horizontally zippered and can be adapted into a cocktail-length gown. The Allens sat with the Frank Sorensons, who hosted a cocktail party in their Mesquite home before the Ball.

Included in the group were: Messrs. and Mrs. Robert Beck, Bob Buttane and Earl Smoak. The hostess was lovely in white organdy. Upon arrival, she wore a red velvet coat which complemented the red roses embroidered on the bodice of her spaghetti-strapped gown. Mrs. Earl Smoak's red hair stopped traffic as she twisted to Vin Riley's music and wore an abundantly draped, floor-length gown of emerald green satin.

As the traditional mirrored ball revolved over the dance floor, it cast a reflection on Francesca (Mrs. Clark) Bramwell, who is mixed-doubles tennis champion of the club, and was the picture of femininity in a Chinese red Harry Cooper gown, fashioned from silk chiffon.

The Bramwells were seated with the Cliff Hendersons, the John Mac Conatys and their houseguests, the George Foldvays of Los Angeles; and Judy Meyer and Ed McCoubrey.

Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association was well represented by a table which included Bill Smith and his guest, Grace Morgan; the Art Coopers and their guests, the Phil Tiernans of Laguna Beach; Mabel McFarland and Messrs. and Mmes. J. W. Johnson and Ed Lawson.

For the festive evening, the chef borrowed recipes from Europe. The main dish, Wiener Schnitzel ala Viennoise, was complemented by Kohl Suppe (cabbage soup), Kartoffel Knodel (potato balls), Hummer Mit Dill Sauce (lobster with dill dressing), Apfel-Strudel, and, of course, Kaffee.

Neither Sunshine or Rodeo Affects The Sunday Brunch

The sun was shining brilliantly outside and the Rodeo was in full swing, but the Ranch Club's Sunday brunch, which had been sold out since Friday night, drew so many people that in addition to the Round Up Room, the Corral Room was filled with guests eating chuckwagon fare and listening to the program over the loud speaker system.

Old favorites and newcomers joined forces for the program. Bob Newkirk, who opens at the Dunes in Las Vegas in June, followed Clessa Williams' and Wally Harpst's traditional opening. The Bob Correll Trio from "That John's" appeared with their talented young singer Nancy Kelly, who has her own brand of jazz singing. Tony Gray added bounce to the ounce as he sang and clowned his way through a few songs. Clessa Williams did a take off on Jolie Gabor singing the French tune "Never on Sunday" with an Hungarian accent, and the Villagers closed the show with an especially twisty Twist in which most of the audience joined.

Among the many guests were Mrs. Charles Becker and Grace Pope at a ringside table; Jane Burford, heading a table which included Dick Kaiser, Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Crall, Dr. and Mrs. Willis Jacobus, Lue and Al Smoak, Martha Woodworth and the A.M. Kidders. The Eric Lindberghs of Wisconsin entertained again at a table for eight. Paul Wickins hosted a small table, as did the Sam Grays, Dewey Carter, Ted Eldridge, Walter Watts and Helen Moore.

A FAMILY BIRTHDAY was celebrated at the Riviera Hotel and honored Mrs. Richard Farnham of Santa Monica, center. Hosting the party was the honoree's

At home in Anaheim, at 1605 Michelle Drive, following a honeymoon in Las Vegas, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dennis Murphy, who were married at the Zion Lutheran Church in Anaheim, saying their vows before Rev. E.W. Mathias.

The bride, the former Jean Roberta Davis, daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Davis of Anaheim, and of Dr. Robert L. Davis of No. Hollywood, wore a sheath gown of white imported chantilly lace, with overbodice beaded with seed pearls. A jeweled crown held up her waist length veil and she carried white orchids on a white Bible.

Attending her as matron of honor, Mrs. I. N. Rainbolt wore a beige lace sheath with satin overskirt and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Mrs. Bruce Liby, another attendant, wore American beauty chiffon with velveteen bodice and carried white carnations.

Bruce Liby of Anaheim acted as best man and ushers were Jack Dieberger and I. N. Rainbolt both of Anaheim.

A graduate of Pacific High School in San Bernardino, the bride also attended Fullerton Junior College.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Murphy of 65-784 W. 14th St., Desert Hot Springs, graduated from Palm Springs High School, attended Riverside City College and spent four years in the United States Air Force. He is currently employed in Corona.

Seven Members Welcomed by Junior Women

'FLIGHT INTO FASHION'

Take Off on Exciting Trip

Take off time for the Palm Desert Woman's Club members and friends who gathered at Airbase Shadow Mountain Club for their spectacular superestratosphere "Flight into Fashion" proved an exciting adventure.

Chief Pilot Velma McCall, announcing from the main control table, welcomed the gathered passengers and asked them to check their tickets carefully. At intervals during luncheon co-pilot Marian Henderson checked all tickets and presented the following with delightful "flying up" presents: Mrs. R. A. Pinyan of Indio received a beautiful box of turquoise feathered flowers as seen at Bullock's; Ms. H. A. Boroch and Mrs. A. E. Klingla of Palm Desert, a hand painted poolside blouse and hand decorated cape done by Bernice Lafland; and Mrs. John Vale of Rancho Mirage, a crystal cigarette set from Edith Morre. Jolie Gabor presented Mrs. Chester Johnston with a pearl bracelet, and Dr. Roy McCall, president of the College of the Desert did an amusing one-man fashion stunt with the lovely white and gold mesh bag given by Robinsons.

Piece de resistance was the Hawaiian family set of clothes for mother, father, daughter and son given by Waiata Clarke to Mrs. C. W. Nickerson of Cathedral City. (She excitedly telephoned long distance to tell her grandchildren that they would be recipients of the younger half).

Pilot McCall then asked passengers to tighten their luncheon belts and stated that an industrious crew had been working day and night on the technical details of this flight. She turned the over to co-pilot Henderson, who introduced the passenger of honor, Jackie Cochran.

From then on Navigator Earlene directed the flight and lovely models Ellen Moon, Helen Kincaide, Helen Seals, Laura Satterfield, Marilyn Harstad, Kay Malone, Judy Anderson, Mary Farmer, Shirley Brown, and Barbara Foster paraded lovely outfits, from brief bathing suits to long skirted evening dresses.

With Chief Pilot McCall were the past presidents, Mmes. Lee Thompson, Robert Ellsworth, Carl Henderson and Harold Carpenter. As they returned to earth and reality Pilot McCall thanked co-contemporary of de Wolfe Hopper). She belonged to the Professional Woman's League, composed of women in the theatre, a forerunner of the present day Guild, in which Lillian Russell and Ethel Barrymore were active leaders. Her long-time and late friend, John Charles Thomas, once sang a sophisticated little French song just for her during a concert in Carnegie Hall. She met the great from this Golden Age of Opera at the Metropolitan, Tetrazzini, Farrar and Caruso, and was present at Caruso's last performance. BB met Diamond Jim Brady; was a neighbor of Mary Garden in Paris; and sold her Champs-Elysees property to Fanny Ward.

BB's first husband was an engineer and her last a German manufacturer, whom she met en route to Bermuda. For over ten years thereafter they lived in and travelled throughout Europe, visiting her beloved United States at regular intervals. They lived at the old Majestic in Paris and owned a villa on the Riviera.

Now she exchanged the theatre for an exciting life of collecting fine antiques, interior decorating and meeting interesting people among whom was the Grand Duke Alexander of Russia. This came about in an amusing fashion when his beautiful and huge Russian wolfhound was held at by BB's small but aggressive Pekingese. In the early '20s when the communists took over Russia and Stalin was starting his powerful reign, the Beschoffs were living in the south of France and in Monte Carlo. Royal refugees abounded and among those that BB and her husband helped was the fascinating but saddened wife of the aide de camp of the murdered Czar Nicholas.

Following the death of her husband, BB made Beverly Hills her home and 14 years ago came to Palm Desert for its wonderful climate and youth holding qualities. BB can pick from a myriad of long and varied memories in her lifetime.

Joy Leigh Walls Honored on Her Second Birthday

A pink elephant cake with two pink candles, baked by neighbor Mrs. Harold Tonne, was the exciting climax of the birthday party arranged by Mrs. Lee Walls to celebrate the fact that their daughter Joy Leigh was two years old. A simple sandwich luncheon was topped with the fancy cake and ice cream and shared with Kerry Herman, Merry Mawby and Tracy Schlect. There was a favor for each little girl.

The mothers, Mmes. Kenneth Herman, Lou Mawby, James Schlect and Bob Higgins, had luncheon with Mrs. Walls, at the Walls' Plaimor home.

Eighty-Three-Year-Old Girl Scout Remembers Own Girlhood That Was So Very Different

By PAT ANDERSON

An interesting chapter in a life that is filled with interesting pages, is the story of Palm Desert's "oldest new member" of the Girl Scouts. Eighty-three years of age and weighing but 95 pounds, former concert singer Blanche Beschoff (known as BB to her many friends) is a full-fledged Girl Scout, heading the committee for the Girl Scout calendars and cookie drives. Tales of her own childhood in Europe entrance the youthful Girl Scouts, who adore her.

Born Blanche Lucille d'Bouvet in Glens Falls, New York, on May 17, 1878, BB traces her family line far back into French history. Her great uncle, Admiral Louis Antoine de Bougainville discovered the island and named the beautiful plant, bougainvillea, that was found growing there. Present day travellers love to visit the island called de Bouvet in the Solomon Islands.

When she was nine years of age, Girl Scout age, BB was living in and visiting throughout Europe. Her mother was invited to be presented at the Court of Queen Victoria, and BB remembers seeing the Queen as she rode through the Park. In Westminster Abby, BB remembers being lifted over the railing and placed on the coronation stone by the colorfully dressed guard. At a hunt attended by her parents on the estate of Lady Paget BB told of her exciting ride, following the hounds in a tallyho. She has vivid recollections of a visit to her French grandmother's estate, on the Isle de Jersey. Here she saw the minuet being danced and taught in the style of French royalty. Her grandmother was 85 at the time, so BB has a heritage of active longevity.

Then there was France. To a child this meant the wonderful puppet shows on the Champs-Elysees in Paris; the baker with his feather duster dusting off the newly baked bread each morning; the little French children with their nurses in capes and bonnets; and a cook named Zabet who made a wonderful onion soup.

Sailing back to the United States on the first "Normandie" BB tells how they managed to arrive in time for what is now known as the Great Blizzard of '88. Lower Fifth Avenue in New York was filled with brownstone homes at that time but none were visible for days from BB's hotel room window.

From her earliest remembrance BB was surrounded by music. She loved to dance and sing, (having a strong, powerful voice for one of such slight build). At a very young age she was invited to appear on the Chicago stage. She won many prizes in elocution and soon started the serious study of voice in New York City. Following training here and abroad in opera and German lieder, she became a part of the musical and stage life of that period. She was with the Rodgers Brothers at the old Casino and with Jeff d'Angelus, the comedian. (a

Thursday evening's picture show he makes the most over two held at the new lounge adjoining acres of paved streets in Braemar. The Pool Room proved to be not only delightful but instructive as well. It was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Hollie E. Brown with Mrs. Brown providing descriptive and witty comments. The original brilliantly colored slides made by the Browns' depicted Honolulu and the islands from a new and fresh point of view of the tourist visitor. Upwards of 50 Braemar residents and guests pronounced the two hours spent as very lovely and worthwhile.

Well over 50 Braemarites enjoyed the family game party night Monday evening Jan. 29, with entertainment consisting of bridge, canasta, gin rummy, dominoes and just plain visiting followed by light refreshments. This was the largest group so far for this kind of affair, of the season. Future plans include a buffet (pot luck) which presages the largest get-together so far. Guests of member-owners are invited. Mrs. Virginia Rose and a large committee of experienced port luckers will handle the affair which will be held Saturday, Feb. 3, at 6:30 p.m.

M. A. Zapp of Vancouver, Wash., a chain operator of drug stores, is back again for several weeks relaxation. A bicycle enthusiast

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schmutz, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Footman spent the week end at the Rose apartment. Mrs. Footman is the daughter of Mrs. Virginia Rose.

Mrs. A. B. Fosseen of Spokane, Wash., flew in several days ago for her first trip to the desert. She is the sister of Roger Neal and will spend several weeks with the Neals at Braemar. It was nine degrees below zero when she left Spokane — a near record.

Recent guests of Stax and Ann Graves Leonard and Evelyn Fitzpatrick of Seattle saw the beauty of Desert Braemar under heavy skies. Leonard is an auto dealer in Seattle and both are active in civic and welfare work in their community. While seeing the golf driving range the putting green and other recreational facilities at Braemar wearing borrowed galoshes, Fitzpatrick came up with a profound if not prophetic observation "I've learned," he said, "you don't have to live in Seattle to get wet feet."

SMC Girl Friday
Has Busy Schedule

Busiest gal in 17 counties is over all kids of firewood for Gwen Shadow Mountain Club's girl Friday, Gwen Holloway, new social director. Resting momentarily after a jam-packed holiday season, Gwen enumerated her "jack of all trades" duties. She arranges bridge for small individual parties and twice a week for the women golfers. She co-ordinates news and current events for the monthly news letter and calendar, checking with manager Richard Buck, golf pro Bob Pinnell and recreational director, Betty Crockett (who does the kiddy parties), so that there is no overlapping.

Gwen helps with Palette Club publicity, reports club news to the papers and arranges for special events to be covered. She keeps records, pastes in the scrap book, greets people day and night and for small luncheons helps to set up the tables and decorate them. In fact she says she does anything that pops up.

Bringing her Texan energy and friendly disposition to Los Angeles in '49, she continued a career as executive social secretary for large firms, having had fine training in meeting and handling large numbers of people, at the Schafer Custom Engineering Company, originators of broadcast automation, her duties were to make reservations, arrange for entertainment, make appointments and keep happy generally the radio station owners, operators and personalities from all over the world who came to Los Angeles on automation business.

Gwen's outside interests are her darling little five pound snow white toy poodle, called "Sugar" and collecting all kind of poodles (ceramic, plaster, stuffed, wall plaques, etc.). She has a cute waste basket decorated with a bejeweled poodle and a friend recently gave her a purse with a poodle motif. Gwen loves to dance, likes people, her work at the club and hopes to remain forever in the desert.

She loves the driftwood found in the area and when time permits hopes to make it another hobby. She has made many friends since coming to the Club and Palm Desert. It's just that she really needs two more hours added to the 24!

Speaking of being friendly, Mardeline and Sanford Eades brought Leora Chalmers and Alice Yeland have just returned from a northern trip.

San Francisco socialite Bruce W. Sanborn Jr., was a recent Palm Desert visitor staying at Shadow Mountain Terrace. Sanborn, a lawyer, is vice president of the DiGiorgio Fruit Corporation. In his party was Mrs. Deidre Evans from Bel Air and Paris, France.

Art, Pat and Gary Rhan celebrated Art's birthday at the Fire-cliff. Other visitors at the popular hotel were Mr. and Mrs. Butch Powers, Mr. Cliff Kumler (San Francisco) and Mr. and Mrs. John Glick (he is manager of Robinson's Beverly Wilshire).

The Center of the Golfing World

Today, for the next four days, Palm Springs and the Desert Empire will be very much in the public eye. With 128 of the leading professional golfers now in competition striving for the rich cash prizes, the Third Annual Palm Springs Golf Classic swung into action on four of our famed golf courses this morning.

With them on the first four days of the five-day 90-hole event, will be 384 amateurs including top-flight stars in the entertainment world. The pros and the amateurs will play today through Saturday on Thunderbird, Tamarrisk, Eldorado and Indian Wells Country Club courses.

Then on Sunday, the amateurs will drop out after 72 holes of play and the 60 low pros will go after the big money alone at Bermuda Dunes Country Club.

The $100,000-added Palm Springs Classic is an attention-getter wherever golf is played—and that takes in an immense amount of territory.

Not only is it the richest in rewards to the winners but it is the longest, 90 holes and five days.

But that isn't all. It has an added feature, introduced in tournament competition for the first time when the first Classic was staged here, since copied in other tournaments but none to the extent of the local event.

That is the $50,000 prize for a hole-in-one.

It has been won both years that the Classic has been played. It was insured with Lloyd's of London, a fact that in itself made the event unique.

This year the premium paid to Lloyd's is almost five times the amount paid the first year. The odds against an ace as it is called when a golfer's tee shot rolls into the cup, are astronomical—but it has been done twice. Joe Campbell teed off in 1960 and his tee shot rang the disaster bell in London and Don January smacked one last year that was heard in Lloyd's of London.

The Classic has many other distinguishing features which set it apart as something special besides the fact that it is the longest in days and in distance.

It is the final Southern California tournament as the pros swing eastward on the 1962 circuit. It is also the richest.

Its importance to the golfing fraternity is evinced by Sam Snead, Sam the Slammer. Snead doesn't compete in many tournaments these days but he is going to be among those present today and the rest of the week. He is one of the big names among the many big names here today. The last time the Slammer played in Southern California was in the Desert Empire. He was a member of the United States Ryder Cup team which defeated the British Ryder Cup team at Eldorado Country Club two years ago.

Top golf writers from the top newspapers and wire services are here and special leased lines have been set up to carry thousands of words about the Palm Springs Classic to the outside world.

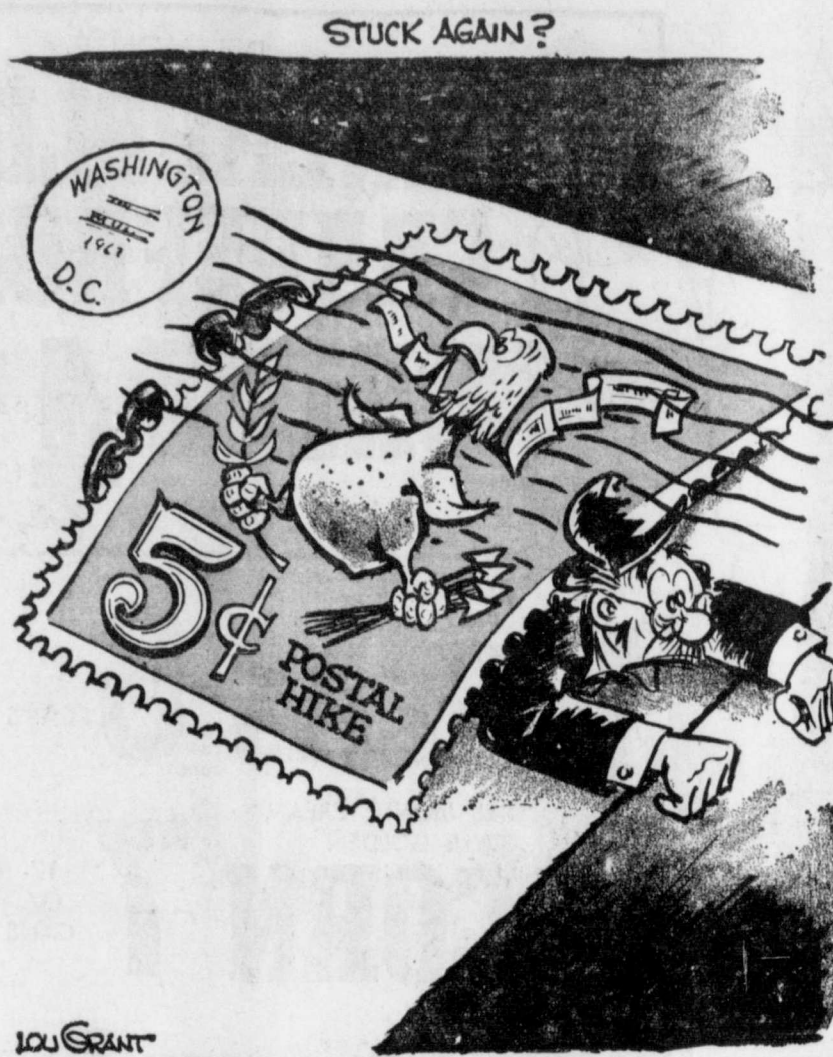

Saturday and Sunday our sun-drenched courses will be on television screens throughout the nation.

The Classic, envisioned by Milt Hicks, Leonard K. Firestone, former governor Dan Thornton of Colorado, and many other Desert Empire enthusiasts, is one of the most important, if not THE most important, on the calendar of the Desert Empire.

We are fortunate in having the Classic as one of our attractions. To help insure the success, both as a great publicity medium for Palm Springs and the Desert Empire and as a substantial source of contributions to our charities, give it your unstinted, whole-hearted support.

Today and through Sunday, not only benefit yourself by watching the best in golf by the best in golfing, but benefit your great desert area, too.

Remember, this is the Winter Golf Capital of the World.

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

So now drink milk,
Shun hootch and beer,
That's the word
On the New Frontier.

As the cynic said: Cows can't vote but dairymen do.

FIRST, JFK WENT around without a hat and most of the loyal Democrats soon started going bare-headed. Even up in Alaska where a day when the mercury climbs up to a maximum of minus ten degrees, is a hot day.

Up there in our 50th state, so the story goes, so many Democrats went without hats that their ranks were decimated by a virus which took advantage of their uncovered heads.

AND THE FIRST THING you know, there were more Republicans in Alaska than Democrats.

The Democrats even ran out of pall bearers and had to call in some Republicans. Anyway, that's the way the story came to me.

I don't believe it either.

GETTING BACK TO Washington, now the President is passing out foaming beakers of milk. I presume milk foams.

The President didn't actually pass out the milk but instructed his press secretary to do so at news conferences.

That must have been a blow to some of the old-line political writers. Probably the first time some of them had seen milk in its natural form.

THEY WOULDN'T KNOW a cow from an aardvark and all they know about the lacteal fluid is that it goes into eggsnogs, some fizzes and oyster stew.

And that it is sometimes superimposed on a Scotch whisky base for the people who have ulcers and are told they mustn't drink.

Most reporters are acquainted only with the male of the bovine species.

COMES A LETTER from JHH, who says he first came to Palm Springs before they even thought about a Tramway. He wanted to say that he agreed with This Side in decrying the attempt to shelve the use of Village and Villagers.

"I'm with you on disliking the term Springs for local residents. They shouldn't be associated with dogs or fish, as you said.

"But as to Springer also meaning a chicken of the frying class—well, I've seen some Villagers who were fried."

THIS WEEK we are observing National Youth Week and, naturally, some people who are prejudiced are going to mention something about delinquency.

"The children now have bad manners. Contempt for authority. They show disrespect for their elders and love chatter. They no longer rise when their elders enter the room, contradict them, gobble up dainties at the table, tyrannize their teachers."

Sounds familiar, doesn't it? Socrates said that in the fifth century, B. C.

The kids really haven't changed much. They just have more to work with.

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I feel that I'm a complete failure as a mother. We have a beautiful, vivacious, intelligent, 16-year-old daughter. We did all we could to guide her mentally, socially and morally. She developed physically much earlier than most girls. From the time she was in 7th grade her teachers have written or called me concerning her conduct with boys. I refused to believe the things she told me because our daughter denied them and I wanted so much to believe her. Suddenly the truth was brought home to us. Our daughter had been lying to us and, without going into detail, we were completely fooled. She is not "in trouble," but she could have been. She is popular and goes with "nice" boys, but even nice boys slip occasionally. We live in fear of what could happen. What do you advise? —EXTREMELY WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Every teenager should have someone with whom she can talk frankly, without fear of censure or punishment. That person, ideally, is her mother. If you cannot cultivate that relationship between you, send her to a psychiatrist, clergyman or guidance counselor. Your daughter needs desperately to learn much concerning sex, emotions and the maturing process.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a woman who keeps annoying a fellow who plainly does not want her? She has been after me for 2 years I am told she has the idea that one day I will break down and marry her I have never been in her company except for occasions when we have been "paired" off by mutual friends who think we make "a nice couple." She keeps calling me and has even come to my apartment uninvited. I am in my fifties and if she were the last female on earth I would sooner marry a man — HOUNDED

DEAR HOUNDED: Why don't you put it to her just that way? If you did, I'm sure you would have no more trouble with her.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who has many good qualities, but he has one stubborn streak in him that drives me crazy. He refuses to let me drive the car while he is in it. He says a man looks like a pipsqueak sitting beside a woman while she drives the car. I have seen other men sit while their wives drove, and they looked happy enough to me. I can drive every bit as well as he can, but of course he would never admit it. I would like your opinion on this subject. —HURT FEELINGS

DEAR HURT: Let your husband drive or he'll drive you crazy.

DEAR ABBY: The man I married has always detested eye make-up of any kind. I went to a make-up consultant and she told me to fill in the blank spaces in my eyebrows with a little eyebrow pencil.

I used the pencil for a month and my husband didn't even notice it. I thought it made me look a lot nicer. It wasn't painted looking, Abby. It was neat and hardly noticeable. One morning my husband saw me using the pencil and he started to rave about how cheap eye make-up was. I told him I'd been using it for a month and he called me "deceitful" and cursed me as though I had taken a giant step toward degradation. The next time I went to use my eyebrow pencil, it was missing. I later found it broken to pieces in the waste basket. I am very angry. What would you do in my place? —SHAGGY BROWS

DEAR SHAGGY: Obviously it wasn't the "work" of the pencil—it was the principle of it that irritated your husband—but he certainly behaved in a childish manner. You knew he "detested" eye make-up when you married him. Write off the pencil entirely.

DEAR ABBY: My son is being married in two weeks and I bought a black dress especially for the wedding. Many of my friends have told me that I absolutely should not wear a black dress to my son's wedding as it would be a big insult to the bride. Why? I am a stout woman and do not feel that I look right in anything except black. I would like your advice. —LIKES BLACK

DEAR LIKES: Black is appropriate for mourning. Wear beige, gray or a pastel color.

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Lola Lane, screen actress, sparked a Red Cross drive at a Desert Inn dinner-dance and collected $300.

Palm Springs Defense Council issued a call for more volunteers for the airplane observation post. Red Cross Ambulance Corps and other war activities. The response to date is insufficient, they declared.

The west's leading rodeo riders thrilled large crowds at the Sixth Annual Palm Springs Rodeo at Smoke Tree Ranch.

Harold Lloyd with his manager and staff of scenario writers spent the week at El Mirador working on plans for his next moving picture.

Mrs. E. T. Fulford was the "teacher" at an old-fashioned Spelling Bee at the Desert Inn.

Heavy rainfall cancelled several meetings and rides planned for the desert area.

BOB CONSIDINE:

Simple Things Spoil the Utmost in Space Tests

CAPE CANAVERAL — One of the more commendable traits of the American government is that in peacetime it does not unnecessarily risk the lives of its troops. It insists that a man use a gun or a machine that is in good working order that his safety is paramount when carrying out any given chore.

In the case of project Mercury this trait has been refined to a degree probably never before known.

The scientists and technicians who assembled Col. John Glenn's Mercury capsule worked in a hygienic, germ-free plant. They wore white coats, specially cleansed. Some used gauze mouthguards, to keep maladies even as incommunicable as halitosis from tainting the two-ton two-million dollar bell-shaped "Friendship 7."

Why then, people down here wonder, can something simple go so drastically wrong with a capsule which has been so carefully produced? Rudimentary oxygen hoses reaching from the capsule's main supply into parts in the astronaut's flying suit got fouled up, Monday, necessitating still another delay in the nation's first effort to get a man in orbit and close in a bit on Russia. Before that, something else failed its telemetry exam, causing a 24-hour delay that now has become a much longer one.

Worn Out in Tests

The suggestion was made today that in our efforts to be sure, absolutely sure, we may be wearing out astronomical hardware by repeatedly testing it. Either that or the involved testing devices may not be accurate and therefore give bad marks to perfect parts. Each is a chilling possibility. There are 63 different and mostly unrelated "systems" built into the Mercury capsule. Some of their parts are so sensitive that, after a prescribed number of hours of testing, they must be replaced.

Other Editors

(Memphis Commercial Appeal)

If the United Nations was a club with a bulletin board on which the names of delinquent dues payers were posted, most of the members would be posted now.

Or, if the United Nations had the once-standard requirement that a man must have a record of tax paying—at least poll tax paying—before he could get a ballot, there would be very few United Nations voters. As a matter of fact there is a United Nations procedure which cuts off the vote after two years of delay in paying on the regular budget but lets the assessments, like the Congo expense, go unpaid.

So there is a roll with 104 members. But the paid-up membership is a very exclusive and extremely short list.

The distinguished names are: Canada, Denmark, Ireland, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Turkey and United States.

Real Bumper to Bumper Service

Leave it to the Japanese. A story coming out of Osaka reveals that a gasoline station there is offering customers hot baths while their car is being serviced.

The idea apparently is that the soothing effect of the bath will relax the motorist and thereby lower the possibility of an accident due to tenseness or that irritable opinion of other drivers.

The innovation is open to question. Perhaps the driver just had a bath and doesn't need another. Perhaps he has a big expensive car which has low gas mileage and so takes five or six times the number of baths afforded an economy car driver. All of those hot baths could be enervating, too, and make him more accident prone.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

The No-Win Policy as Intellectualism

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Ideas rule the world. If, as this column has been contending the Kennedy Administration has developed a No Win policy against Russia, it should be possible to document the contention by showing where the No Win ideas come from.

First of all, the No Win ideas come from books like D. F. Fleming's current massive work entitled, "The Cold War and Its Origins." It was reviewed in the New York Times on December 24, 1961, under a five-column head: "The Thesis: Responsibility for the Cold War Lies Heavily Upon Us."

These words characterize the book. Its 1,158-page message is that the fault and guilt of the Cold War and for World War III, if it comes, belong to the USA, not to the USSR. Dr. Fleming's book is further characterized by the reviews it drew from Left and Right, for example:

Herbert Aptheker in Political Affairs (formerly known as The Communist); Dr. Aptheker, who testified for the Communist Party before the Subversive Activities Control Board and who has been a teacher and trustee for the Party's Jefferson School of Social Science hails this as a "great book, the importance of which in 1961 cannot be exaggerated." His eight-page review exultantly enlarges upon the theme that "Professor Fleming's two-volume work demonstrates definitely and conclusively that the onus for the beginnings, continuance and persistence of the Cold War lies with the West and, in the first place, with the United States."

Edgar Ansel Mower in National Review: "(In) what may be the most harmful book of our time . . . (Fleming) looks upon the Cold War less as an American scholar than as a pacifist, pro-Russian, reforming revivalist whose purpose it is to call the unrighteous (our side only, of course) to repentance and to avoid nuclear hell by making peace at almost any price with Red Russia and Red China."

Two other No Win documents with previous mention here are Fred Warner Neal's "U. S. Foreign Policy and the Soviet Union" and Erich Fromm's "May Man Prevail?" Neal, a former State Department functionary, says:

"At official as well as unofficial levels, American attitudes toward the Communist Colossus have become befogged in a miasma of fear and emotion . . . nowhere in the whole body of Soviet Marxist theory is there the implication that the Soviet Union, for ideological or for other reasons, should itself initiate a war."

Fromm depicts Russia as a "politically conservative industrialism" which "is against revolution."

Ideas Turn Up

The composite picture of these three works is that a guilty, warlike America confronting a peace-loving, conservative Russia. Do such ideas turn up in the Administration's attitude toward Russia? Yes, they do. The following examples are paraphrased from official but unpublished intra-Administration reports:

Russia is now, or is "evolving" into, something of a less-dictatorial welfare state. Soviet "vulnerabilities," such as restless satellites, allies and rising consumer demands, are such that we should let nature take its course—and not vigorously exploit them. For the USA to appear too anti-Communist gives the appearance of war-mongering. The Communist "conspiracy" is unproved. It would be imprudent to attempt any rollback of Soviet power or any subversion of a Sin-Soviet satellite. The USA should befriend "independent" Communist regimes. The President should crack down on anybody (like Gen. Walker) who gives the appearance of neo-Fascism.

Each of these attitudes, reflected from books of anti-American intellectualism, help to make up a No Win policy.

QUOTES

ELIZABETHVILLE, Katanga, The Congo — U.S. Ambassador Edmund Gullion on the accord reached by Moise Tshombe and Cyrille Adoula:

"Mr. Tshombe is now committed before public opinion. If he goes back on his word, he will lose the credence of even that section of public opinion which has been supporting him."

SHOWING SOME OF THE SMOKE that enabled him to rocket Elvis Presley to stardom is Colonel Tom Parker, who is pictured opening night at Chi Chi with his wife, and show stars, the Crosby Brothers.

Offspring of Bing Bring Nostalgia for Old Days

By SUE RAYMOND

While many night clubs around the country were dark on Monday night, Chi Chi's Starlite Room was bright with golfers, made famous by their scores, and vocalists, made famous by their voices.

The Crosby Brothers, Phillip, Dennis and Lindsay, who will be headlining through Feb. 6, have youth, vitality and a famous name. Unfortunately, it is that name that hinders instead of helps their performance.

As the Jones, Smith or Johnson Brothers, they would be entertaining as a second-billed trio. As the Crosby Brothers, they have been handed the top of the marquee, and they try too hard to prove they belong there.

Offer Nostalgia

As often as they thank their father ("for making this act possible"), they apologize (in word and overdone gesture) for having inherited a name they can't live up to.

What they do offer an audience is nostalgia, when they close with a medley of tunes representative of the man who gave them a name that should have sent them running straight into any business but show business.

Dancer Lois Ray opens the show with a spoof on TV-type dancers

(choreographers) who use their arms, eyes, or anything else but their feet when they dance. She comments that she's just an old-fashioned dancer and proves it by capably copying Bill Robinson. She winds up her act by doing a shadow dance with a puppet, which duplicates her in detail. The novelty number is backed up by and off-stage recording which might make audiences think she was also a ventriloquist.

Dave Madden Sparkles

Show-closer and show stopper Dave Madden is back for the second time in 30 days . . . with tongue in cheek.

Madden compliments his audience by not explaining his sophisticated satire, and he is to be complimented for resisting the temptation to poke fun at the putts of some of the "oft-trapped" audience. If he left the golfers alone, he had a few well chosen words to say on just about every other subject, including Julian Stiff, one of Chi Chi's owners, he hit local funny bones when he referred to Stiff as the owner . . . this week.

Madden spoke of a third world war (it will only take seven hours so people will have their evening free); the latest charity drive (to fight the biggest killer of all . . .

Warming Hint

NEW YORK (UPI) — Don't overheat the thermostat when you're looking for more heat in a hurry.

If you wish to increase a room's temperature from 70 to 73 degrees, for example, set the dial at 73. Heating engineers report that pushing the thermostat ahead 10 degrees in such a case will not make the furnace work a bit faster and it wastes heat.

THERE'S A REASON

Why All the Kids Are Growing Taller

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Agriculture Department scientist said today better nutrition, medical care, and environment in general have resulted in children who are taller at every age than they were 50 years ago.

Persons who have become adults in recent decades average two inches taller, according to Dr. Ruth Leverton, of the Agricultural Research Service (ARS).

Carlbad Caverns National Park was established by President Hoover in May, 1930.

The diets and nutritional status of the children of this nation have never been as good as they are today," Dr. Leverton said. "Diets generally have improved in recent decades and often children's diets have improved more than those of adults. Many children are eating kinds and amounts of food that supply an adequate and often optimum intake of nutrients."

The scientist said that in spite of the advance in the nutritional status of children, both family and new problems are challenging nutrition educators. Some children should consume more milk and cheese and more fruits and vegetables to meet their need for calcium, vitamin C and vitamin A. She said teen-age girls too often decrease their food intake at just the time when their need for food increases.

The 1961 honey crop has been estimated at a record 274,088,000 pounds, 6 per cent more than the 1955-59 average. The 1961 crop was 1 per cent larger than the previous record set in 1952. The largest honey producing states are Minnesota, California, Florida, and Wisconsin.

Dr. Harold P. Lundgren of the department's wool and mohair research laboratory at Albany, Calif., said wool is holding its place in the apparel market and is being improved to meet the competition of synthetics.

Lundgren said wool continues to supply about 13 per cent of the apparel fabrics. Among the reasons, he said, are the research-improved wool fabrics already on the market. These include garments that stretch and return to shape, and others that hold their creases, are easier to launder and dry clean, or have improved resistance to moth damage.
